Regulations on Household Goods and Personal Effects Shipments in Russia

Import of Household Goods

Foreigners

The following documents are needed for foreigners to import household goods into Russia:

- Copy of passport
- Copy of visa
- Copy of registration in Moscow
- Letter from the company
- Proforma invoice (except for air shipments)
- Packing list
- Power of attorney (issued by a Russian notary) and notarized copy of the power of attorney authorizing Move One to act on shipper's behalf (template will be provided)
- Temporary import obligation, if the client would like to avoid payment of duties and taxes – for surface shpt only (template provided)*.

- Since July 1, 2010 temporary import of household goods and/or personal belongings has been limited to certain items only. Please find the list of these goods at the end of this document. Since duties and taxes are calculated per kg and weight of the listed items is small, the total amount of duties which will be deducted from the amount for the whole shipment will be marginal. Therefore, we suggest you to consider carefully whether it is worth the time, money and effort put in arranging and extending the TIO.
- The goods that are not listed as allowed for temporary import are dutiable.
- Import air shipments can be customs cleared under duties and taxes only.

Returning Russian Citizens:

Documents needed for the customs clearance are the following:

- Copy of foreign passport (in case of import with duties and taxes) and original passport (in case of duty free import)
- Copy of domestic passport
- Copy of visa of the country the client is arriving from
- Copy of registration in Moscow
- Proforma invoice (except for air shipments)
- Packing list
- Power of attorney (issued by a Russian notary) and notarized copy of the power of attorney authorizing Move One to act on shipper's behalf
- T6 Customs Declaration Form (required for duty free custom clearance)

- Returning Russian citizens can import goods duty free if value of the goods (accompanied luggage, air and surface together, regardless the size of the shipment) does not exceed equivalent of 1500 EUR and weight is not more than 50 kgs. Russian citizens who had been registered with the consulate of Russian Federation in a foreign country for not less than one calendar year are eligible for bringing personal effects with value of not more than equivalent of 5000 EUR without paying duties and taxes. In this case it is necessary to provide a document from a respective diplomatic or consular institution proving the fact and terms of such registration.
- The excess luggage is subject to duties and taxes.
- Also returning Russian citizens can bring their personal effects duty free if there is a clear proof that these specific goods were exported from Russian Federation previously. If a shipper fails to provide such a proof duties and taxes will apply.
- In order to obtain the signed and stamped T6 form, upon arrival the client has to go through the red channel at Moscow airport and declare household goods and personal effects arriving to Russia as unaccompanied luggage (sample is available if needed). The customer must ensure the T6 form is stamped and signed by customs officer at the Moscow airport. Please do not let the customs officer keep the T6 form! In case the customer cannot produce a signed, stamped T6 form declaring household goods and personal effects shipments, duty-free clearance is impossible and applicable duties and taxes are to be paid.
- Only one set of T6 form is needed regardless how many shipments the client has, but it has to be detailed on the form e.g. 1 CTR + 10pcs by air. Besides, Russian citizens have to show to customs copy of transport document (AWB or OBL) by which the unaccompanied shipment will be sent to Russia.

Diplomats

Documents needed for the customs clearance:

- 2 copies of Letter from the Embassy
- 2 copies of the diplomatic card stamped by the Embassy
- 2 copies of the power of attorney on the Embassy's letterhead
- Proforma invoice (except for air shipments)
- Packing list

Import of Vehicles

- Foreign citizens can import a personally owned vehicle registered in a foreign country without paying duties and taxes for the whole term of the individual's staying in Russian Federation, but not more than for 1 year. A necessary condition for temporary import is that the vehicle shall not be used for production or other commercial activity, or transferred for use or possession to the others. Temporarily imported vehicles are to be removed from the territory of Russian Federation right after the expiration of temporary import obligation by presenting the vehicle at a check-point on the Russian state border.
- If the owner stays in Russia more than a year, temporary import obligation must be closed first and a new TIO should be opened. Temporary import extension can be done by presenting the vehicle at the custom point assigned to the region where the individual is registered.
- Within 15 days after expiration date of the temporary import obligation customs point where such obligation was issued must receive information on closure of the obligation, extension of the term or violations of custom laws discovered by other custom points. In case such information is not received data on the vehicle is entered into a common data base of Russian customs. In case if after the expiration date of the temporary import obligation the vehicle is not removed from the territory of Russian
